

Homophones

Homophones are words that sound the same.

They have different spellings and different meanings.

Examples: I will write my name.

She ate a pear for lunch.

Turn right at this street.

I bought a pair of shoes.

Directions: Circle the sentence that goes with the picture.

1.

The mouse one the race.

The mouse won the race.

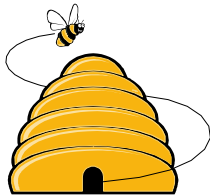

2.

Turn right at the next road.

Turn write at the next road.

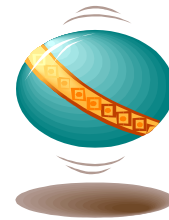

3.

I saw a be buzzing around.

I saw a bee buzzing around.

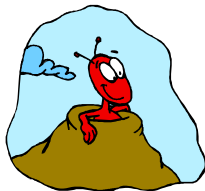

4.

He threw the blew ball.

He threw the blue ball.

5.

There is an unt in the tunnel.

There is an ant in the tunnel.

6.

I hear the bell ringing.

I here the bell ringing.

Homophones

Answer Key

Homophones are words that sound the same.

They have different spellings and different meanings.

Examples: I will write my name.

She ate a pear for lunch.

Turn right at this street.

I bought a pair of shoes.

Directions: Circle the sentence that goes with the picture.

1.

The mouse one the race.

The mouse won the race.

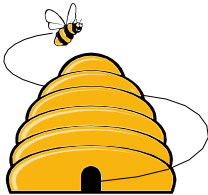

2.

Turn right at the next road.

Turn write at the next road.

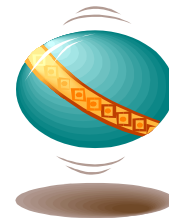

3.

I saw a be buzzing around.

I saw a bee buzzing around.

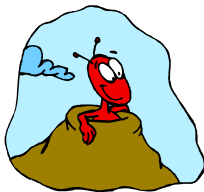

4.

He threw the blew ball.

He threw the blue ball.

5.

There is an aunt in the tunnel.

There is an ant in the tunnel.

6.

I hear the bell ringing.

I here the bell ringing.